TODAY'S meditation

The Upper Room
THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, January 12

Read Luke 22:24-30.

It is you who have stood by me through my trials. (Luke 22:28)

Metfall.

THIS is one of the most gallant statements I have ever read.

If Jesus had said, "I have stood by you in your trials," we could easily grasp it. But Jesus praised the disciples for having stood by Him. Had they stood by Him? Did they deserve this praise?

Regardless of the answers to these questions, Jesus believed in them and praised them. He spoke to them of their work to God.

A popular novelist tells the story of a man who for many years professed atheism. In illness, near the end of his life, he was still clutching his atheism and boasting of his not believing in God. Then his daughter remarked to him, almost casually, "What does it matter that you do not believe in God? He believes in you!" He had not seen it that way before. Soon he was gloriously converted.

We wonder what effects the words of Jesus had on His disciples. Surely they needed these words of our text to strengthen them for the days and years that were to come.

Prayer

Our Father, Thou hast believed in us and loved us with an everlasting love. Because of Thy love, Thou didst give Thy Son to die on the cross for our salvation. May we receive Him with grateful hearts and give our lives without stint to Thy service. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Christ needs me now to stand by Him in His trials.

4500 ALIENS ALREADY HAVE REPORTED ADDRESSES TO GOVERNMENT

C. C. Doughty, Officer in Charge of the Immigration and Naturalization Service for the State of Maine has announced an estimated 4,500 aliens have already filled out address report cards under the law requiring noncitizens to report their addresses to the Government each January.

C. C. Doughty said the law applies to all noncitizens except persons in diplomatic status, and foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations.

The parents or legal guardian of an alien under 14 years of age, or legal guardian of an incompetent alien should fill out the address card for such class of noncitizen. Willful noncompliance with the law can make an alien subject to fine, imprisonment, and/or deportation.

Mr. Doughty urged all aliens in Maine to fill out cards at the nearest Post Office or Immigration office as soon as possible. He said the law requires that the cards be filled out during January of each year.

Do you know your county agent, home demonstration agent, and 4-H Club agent? Their friendship is very much worthwhile and is yours for the asking.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, our Heavenly Father has called to the Grange above
our Worthy Brother Lon M. Wight Therefore Be it Resolved, that in his untimely passing Oxford Pomona Grange has lost a devoted member and Past Officer, one who was always ready to promote the interests of the order.

An influential citizen in the community he was always interested in town and state affairs and willing to give of his time for the public good.

'Tis hard to take the burden up,
When they have laid it down
They brightened all the joy of life
They softened every frown;
But oh, 'tis good to think of them
When we are troubled sore!
Thanks be to God that such have been.

Though they are here no more.
Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy sent to the family of our deceased Brother and copies sent to the Advertiser-Democrat, Bethel Citizen and

by Douglas L. Marston Soil Conservation Service

This is the time of year when I think we should make some resolutions about conservation farming for the new year. It seems that about everyone makes some sort of resolution to start off the new year, but usually they seem to get side-tracked soon after the year has started.

I would like to list a few conservation resolutions that I think would not only improve the farm and its income, but also give considerable personal satisfaction:

It looks high priced

...but it's the '56 Chevrolet!

THE NEW DEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolet models.

Who wouldn't mistake this handsome new Chevrolet for a high-priced car!

It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motorama styling . . . its bigger, lower hood . . . its proud new grille that spans the full front end.

Even the details would do credit to an expensive car . . . like the sleek, high-fashion taillights (the left one hides the gas cap!).

But, even beyond the costly appearance of its Fisher Body, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. For it's one of the few great road cars built today!

It brings you the added security of nailed-down stability on turns and lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower now ranges all the way up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.

Of course, Chevrolet has safety door latches in all models. In addition, you can have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

There's a new Chevrolet just made for you.
So come in and highway-test it.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

...things That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

It is a basic premise of communism that capitalism murderously exploits the masses of working people, and reduces them to the status of slaves with barely enough of the material things of life to keep body and soul together. Thus, Marx and Engels wrote in The Communist Manifesto: "The work of the proletarians has lost all individual character, and consequently all charm for the workmen. He becomes an appendage of the machine, and it is only the most simply, most monotonous, and most easily acquired knack, that is required of him. Hence, the cost of production of a workman is restricted... to the means of subsistence, and for the propagation of his race."

This quotation provides an article in Newswatch entitled "The Union Man." The article's purpose is to give a picture of the kind of person who will "help to determine the course of labor-management relations in the United States during the next decade or two." For it is obvious, the powers-that-be in the newly-joined AFL-CIO labor organization won't get far unless they earn the approval of the 15,000,000 union members.

To sit for the picture, Newswatch chose a 32-year-old layout inspector in a plant of one of the major auto manufacturers. He isn't typical of the magazine's cut-out-people who really are called that. But he is representative. And the Marx-Engels portrait of the worker bears as little resemblance to this actual one "as a caricature's night-mare."

He has worked for his company since graduation from high school and has steadily moved upward. He puts in alternate 40 and 48 hour weeks, for which he receives $105 and $140 respectively. In addition he earns $10 to $20 a month for lunch-hour work for a catering company.

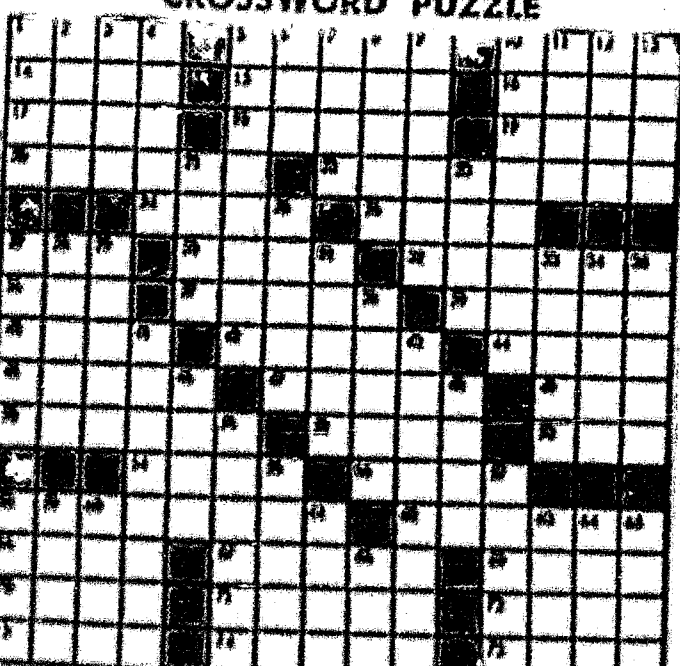

His living standards would make Marx and Engels and their prissy-day counterparts blink their eyes in disbelief. He, with his attractive wife and son, lives in a home valued at $17,000. He has a 1955 medium-sized car and the car and the house are the only possessions he owns for. The house has all the modern conveniences, down to the TV set. He has a substantial amount of life and other protective insurance. For a hobby, the family takes registered German shepherd dogs.

He is a good union man, though he has reservations about the new

DUN & BRADSTREET REQUEST STATEMENTS FROM 14,000 MAINE BUSINESSMEN

Each January business concerns in all parts of the United States receive from Dun & Bradstreet requests for their annual financial statements. This year the number of requests going out nationwide will approximate three million, with over 14,000 going to Maine businessmen.

The growth and the industrial development of Maine is reflected in statistics just released by the credit reporting firm. F. E. Gorenson, manager at Portland which covers this area, says that this year there will be more requests for financial statements made of business concerns in Maine than ever before.

The Maine section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book contains listings of 15,000 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. Thus the figure for businessmen in Maine would actually be higher than the 15,000 quoted above.

During 1955, Dun & Bradstreet made 7,224 changes in the listings of business enterprises in Maine. The changes were made in the listings of 15,000 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. Thus the figure for businessmen in Maine would actually be higher than the 15,000 quoted above.

merger and the talk of a 60-hour week. He is also a Democrat—but he thinks "the has done a pretty good job." Apparently he plans to vote Democratic next time, too, but he won't be too disturbed if the Republicans stay in power.

An Newswatch writer it all up, in the way he lives and in his aspirations he "isn't much different from other Americans."

The skilled American worker, in other words, has made and continues to make enormous gains, judged by any criteria. And the representative worker, it certainly seems, is a fairly conservative chap, who likes his job and his life in general and isn't easily moved to extremes of attitude. Men such as this constitute the core of the organized labor movement today—and it certainly is quite a question as to just how acceptable they are to the madmen, political and otherwise, of the union spokesmen. It seems as if they are in the habit of thinking for themselves.

NORTH WOODSTOCK

Mrs. C. James Knights, Cor.—The Village Improvement Society met Saturday evening at the home of the Vice President, Herman Cole. There were eight members present. Officers for the year were elected: President, Ava Poland; Vice President, Herman Cole; Secretary, Elizabeth Knights; Treasurer, Elva Abbott.

Robert Davis was at Norway on business Monday night.

Mr and Mrs Clinton Buck were at Auburn Saturday afternoon and called to see Mrs Buck's mother, Mrs Hattie Brown.

Mrs Villa Sessions of Rumford visited Tuesday with Mrs Herman Cole.

Mr and Mrs Herman Cole recently called to see Cecil Kimball at Locke Mills also Harry Day and Mr and Mrs Ben Warner Jr.

The seller is located. The listing of the Maine businessman appears in every issue of the Reference Book in the United States.

A Reference Book listing contains the name of the business and the rating. The rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of that alphabet, indicates financial strength or capital. It is the difference between what the business owes and what it owns. The second symbol, a numeral, reflects a composite of financial stability and payment record.

January, 1956—no better time to start thinking, acting, and doing wisely. The person that "gets ahead" this year might as well be you.

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould Five Playing Away

This Friday the Husky varsity will travel to Old Orchard. This will be an overnight trip with the scoulers acting as hosts. Last year the "Sea Gulls" had a powerful aggregation that easily won over Gould here. They, however, have lost their big center and other stars through graduation and will not likely be as strong this year. Not much is known of their record but the Husky team can expect plenty of opposition as well as royal entertainment on their visit to Old Orchard.

On Tuesday, Gould will travel to Leavitt Institute for a return game. This game is set for 3 o'clock in the afternoon. In the opening game of the season the Bethel team came through with a 60-47 win over the Institute five. The Huskies have a decided height advantage against Leavitt and should come through with another victory.

Gould 66—Mexico 50
Gould Academy pulled into third place in the Western Division of the San Journal League last Friday by downing Mexico 66-50. The first period was close with the Huskies maintaining only a 12-10 advantage. A big rally in the second period, however, left the Huskies 15 points behind at the half.

In the last half the visitors put on a rally of their own and nearly overtook the home club but Gould came back strong in the closing minutes to regain the comfortable lead. Bob Knight with 26 points and Merle White with 18 were the leading scorers for the Huskies. Dale Brown and Joe Blanchard led the Huskies with 16 and 12. Also scoring in double figures were Mexico's George Christakos with 11 points and Gould's Dave Willard with 10.

The Husky J.V.s made it a clean sweep for the evening by downing Pinto under studies by a 66-44 score.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Fayetteville, N. Y., Eagle-Bulletin: "Are a few dollars in federal aid (which you, as a taxpayer, would pay in the first place) worth the sacrifice of the free educational system? Are a few dollars in federal aid worth learning from books and teaching standards established by a vast federal government that consciously or unconsciously would include political thinking in its mandates?"

Alfred, Ill. Times Record: "The combined CIO and AFL would be wise to see that they don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg. When factories shut down, strikes and wage demands seem pretty puny. If business suffers, labor will suffer even more."

JANUARY FOOD SUPPLY LOOKS GOOD TO CONSUMERS

The new year of 1956 is getting off to a good start with January offering a number of outstanding food buys for Maine consumers. And the situation for this month promises to set a pattern for the months to come. Plentiful foods for January headlines beef, pork, and grapefruit. Also on the list are potatoes, apples, eggs, broilers and fryers, winter pears, milk and dairy products, as well as canned tuna fish, lard vegetable fats and oils, oranges, tangerines, and dry beans. Many food industries will sponsor food promotions to increase the consumption of their particular commodities. Consumers should be able to get lots of suggestions on the economical use of these "plentiful" foods to stretch the family budget.

PORTLAND MAN NAMED TO PUBLICITY BUREAU POST

The appointment of William A. Hatch of Portland to the position of Assistant Executive Manager of the State of Maine Publicity Bureau was announced today by Bernard M. Johnstone, Executive Manager of the organization. Mr. Hatch, a native of Maine, was graduated from Deering High School, Portland, in 1934 and was employed in that city before the war. He was aerial construction and publicity photographer for the Maritime Commission and later optical instrument inspector for the Air Technical Service Command working with aerial camera equipment and bomb sights for the Air Force in the west.

Prior to coming with the Bureau, he was department supervisor for the U. S. Navy Public Information Office in Utah for three years. Returning to Maine in 1946, Mr. Hatch joined the Publicity Bureau staff as photographer and editorial assistant. In 1953 he was promoted to editorial manager and served in this capacity for four years.

According to Mr. Johnstone, "The new duties of Mr. Hatch will include assisting with the administration of the $100,000 annual promotional budget and supervision of the Portland, Bangor, Augusta, Fryeburg, Kittery and New York offices of the Bureau."

BOTH SHEEP AND BEEF
CATTLE CAN BE PROFITABLE
IN MAINE

Maine has the grass and the climate to make livestock production a paying proposition, with particular emphasis on either sheep or feeder fed cattle. Either enterprise fits in well with other farm work from a labor standpoint, both types of livestock utilize grass efficiently—of which Maine has plenty—and both will find a ready market in the Northeast. Housing requirements are inexpensively met with pole-type buildings.

ing on Care and Repair in the Home was held at the home of Miss Mabel Abbott, Tuesday.

Miss June Foster and Richard Stearns of Rumford Corner were callers on Mr. and Mrs. David Foster, Sunday.

SCHOOL NEWS
Grade 4—Miss Ballard, Mrs. Ring Diane Lothrop has been absent the past week because she had her tonsils removed at the Rumford Hospital. — Mrs. Ring's class is studying about foods and how important it is for them to eat a balanced diet. — Miss Ballard's room had perfect attendance for two days the first week of this term. Norma Sloan left during the Christmas vacation for Florida. She will be back to school in the spring.

Mrs. Lord's Room
We are studying 7 basic foods. — Nancy Cole, Carol Keoskie, Cynthia Hicks, Beth Brown, brought stuffed animals and made a display on our table. — Peter Davis brought a steam engine. — Ronald Coulombe brought some French books and explained them to us. — We are passing our Canada notebooks in, also Home Note-books. — Reporters, Bonita Eames and Carol Keoskie.

Grade 7
Mr. Heino's room has a new pupil named Sharon Casey. We like her very much. — Many of us were very pleased that we didn't have to attend school Monday. — In Mrs. Gunther's room Jeff Hutchins, Stanley Moore, Gerry Domingos, David Salway, Irene Williams, Jean Waterhouse and Cynthia Burris, have not missed a day of school this year. — Chris Angeline, James Bartlett, Kennard Bennett, Dixie Bennett, David Boynton, Dixie Lea Brown, Roma Bennett, Mary Jane Brown, Ronald Coulombe, Landon Felt and Fred Lincoln haven't missed any school in Mr. Heino's room. — Reporters, Linda Brown, Merry Ring.
